BREAKING THROUGH TO SOMETHING NEW

ECJC? Something New?

Sure, another year, but it's always the same. The same people, with a new set of freshmen, the same organizations, the same activities, and the same sports events, with a new record. How could this year be any different?

Not only did 1986 bring the routine changes, but it also brought about major changes in administration, a new President. Fresh faculty faces appeared on campus, new clubs were chartered, and school participation flourished as apathy became less apparent. New feelings of warmth, spirit, and pride came into existence.

In 1986 ECJC is something new!

What a practice! Stepping out of the Fine Arts Auditorium after a long band session are Pennie Bailey, Danny Bryant, and Teresa Sharp.

With high school and possibly a freshman year behind, ECJC is still a

NEW EXPERIENCE

College life is the breaking away of old familiar ways and walking head on into an unexplored territory, a territory filled with people of diversified backgrounds, but all with a common goal — to be something better.

Maybe the most important thing one learns is not a mathematical equation; it is, however, a lesson in life — living in a new place with new friends who have new ideas and new experiences yet to be revealed.

For some it is the first time to be out on their own. Whether to attend or cut classes, studying or going out with friends is up to the individual. College life brings a new maturity as we realize the future depends on our own decisions.

As one can never be "over-prepared" for a test, Israel Reed crams a few more facts in while waiting.

Concentration is evident as Tonya Clair and Cynthia Hughes spend a leisurely evening at Tri-Ominoes.

Although there are many unusual positions to study, Patrick Nash prefers the ordinary one of lying down.

Bracing herself before undertaking the tast of cleaning her room before room check is Allison Adams.

ECJC's version of Hank Williams, Jr., Boyd Germany, proves, "A Country Boy Can Survive" in Todd Hall.

Deep in thought, Stan Hardy takes a few moments to prepare for the Scholar's Bowl.
When agility counts, cheerleader Cindy Watkins will be prepared as she practices routines in her dorm.

HOME SWEET DORM

Dorm life is exciting, lively, and sometimes "nerve-wrecking." You have a new family of 50, or more, brothers and sisters all sharing the same kitchen, laundry, and bathroom facilities.

Living in a dorm has its advantages. It's easier to get to class, and it gives a feeling of independence. The greatest advantage of dorm life is meeting new people. Dorm life is filled with memories of good times, practical jokes, parties, mischievous acts and those conversations that lasted until 4:00 a.m. with friends.

Debbie Love refuses temptations with her famous quote, "Do you want to spoil this fine figure of a woman?"

Catching up on the latest fashion trends are Gaye McDaniel, Janet Winstead, Tammy Winstead, and Susan Williamson.

Independence, doing what I want and with no parents to stop me!" But wait, what happened to those delicious home cooked meals every night?

ECJC's Mabry Cafeteria, without argument, is not the finest gourmet restaurant in Decatur. But no matter how much is said about institutional food, there is always a very long line to the cafeteria.

Is Philip Chamblee only eating, or is he practicing for an appearance on "Late Night With David Letterman"?

Alben Roland takes time out from his busy schedule to singlehandly consume one of Mr. Lee's specialties.

Finally after a long, tiring day of classes, Richie Lovorn relaxes.

Just For Fun

In a junior college everyone is gaining knowledge, understanding, and maturity. That, however, is not the only reason ECJC remains special.

Junior college life is the era in which one wishes he or she could remain. ECJC is a time of living, being carefree, partying and having fun. No one questions or criticizes this outrageous and irresponsible behavior. They know a time will come when we cannot remain under twenty-one forever, responsibility will fall, and we cannot schedule classes around "Days of Our Lives" indefinitely!

"THE BEST YEARS"

However old the expression might be, it is nonetheless true.

Even though one's schedule is filled with studying and working, all students find time for personal enjoyment. Intramurals, organizations, and clubs offer many activities.

If going to class does not excite you, then one can always sunbathe at Turkey Creek. Thursday nights at "Gabriels," eating french fries at the truckstop at 1:30 p.m., or just cruising campus might be other "traditions" one might enjoy.

Whether you want to be alone, with a group of friends, rowdy, peaceful, or happy, there's an area available at ECJC.

WITH YOU IN MIND

The phrase is heard sa many times but rarely considered

Fall brings faatball games, Hamecaming, a Castume Party, Dinner Theatre, nat ta mentian ather activities. With spring cames a calendar filled with events such as the Musical, electians, pram, baseball, and finally graduatian.

Oppartunities far grawth autside the classraam are endless. Thraugh the many diversified activities,the student becames a well-raunded individual

Greg Sanders, Billy McLeoud, and Woodrow Longmire are all smiles after being watched by university scauts at the All-Star game. Pictured with them are ECJC cheerleaders who were chasen to represent the Sauthern team. (top)

Just Friendly Folks

"Hi!"

The phrase is spoken so many times during a day; it becomes habitual.

Friendliness has always been part of Southern hospitality, and ECJC is without exception. Students find time to mumble a few words of greeting or "catch-up" in a lenghty conversation.

ECJC's friendly conversation is contagious. As one walks throughout the campus, the instinct to smile and say, "hello," spreads.

Janet Winstead, Tracy Williams, Teresa Gordon, and Michelle Murphy display spirit at the Homecoming pep-ralley.

Romana Morgan gets the feel of an early spring day in February.

Southern hospitality abounds European style as Boyd Germany greets Annette Hurley in a scene from "Impromptu".

Thursday Night?!!!!!

It doesn't take one long to realize traditional student life on this night is not at ECJC's campus. Celebrating the weekend one day early after a week of mind grueling classes, or relaxing after cramming for tests, everyone deserves a fun-filled night. Whether dancing the night away to music by Ace, shooting a game of pool, or simply "celebrating" — the night is enjoyment with friends.

Dancing the night away, ECJC students enjoy escaping from the books for a few hours before those exams on Friday.

The Night Life

Sometimes we speculate where we would be if there was not an East Central. Where would we wander; where would we reside? There is only one answer, "We would be together having a blast pretending there was a make believe East Central!"

Friends are caught on camera on every corner of EC's campus, as they share a joke, a smile or a memory.

You're Only Young ONCE

College offers the ultimate excuse to play grown-up. Only in an environment where people of all sorts share living quarters, clothing, food, and philosophies of life is the pursuit of a good time considered as important as the pursuit of good grades. And where else but college could hitting the sack be viewed as a valid alternative to hitting the books? The associate's degree conferred upon graduation represents not only a formal classroom education, but also the even more important lessons in maturity, money, and madness.

GOLDEN YEARS

East Central years are golden times — the ones that will never fade from your memory. The goals that you reach now are the ones you will remember forever. These are your college days and what you acquire during your stay at East Central will be your stepping stones for the future. This is true because you made life part of East Central and East Central part of your life.

ECJC — OFFERS MANY THINGS . . .

THE WORLD — IN THE NEWS

As we studied, worked, and played, the world refused to stand idle and complacently await the day that we would assume our places among society . . .

Yet, at the same time, we would be wrong to say that the world simply passed us by during our school year of 1985-86.

As adolescents we watched the price of gasoline increase fourfold and the price of video games decrease fourfold, while words like "valley girls", "computers", "energy crisis" were fast becoming standards in our breakfast-table vocabulary. We saw political unrest as we learned the identities of Khadafy and Marcos.

And by the time we were trying to decide on a major at ECJC, "terrorism', "nuclear war", "Challenger", and "AIDS" were already worn-out words that had replaced the "peace", "space shuttles", and "health awareness" of our innocent past.

Change is nothing new to our age . . .

Disasters abounded — both natural and unnatural. A series of devastating earthquakes rumbled through Mexico City in September and the death toll was in the thousands. Few in the metropolitan area of 18 million escaped the effects of the quake which registered 8.1 on the Richter scale; or the second quake which measured 7.5.

A Delta Airlines jetliner crashed near Dallas, TX in August, killing 137 people. Thirty-four people survived the crash, but five died of injuries later.

Riots were an almost daily occurrence in South Africa as blacks protested Apartheid.

An entire city block was destroyed in Philadelphia. Police tried to remove members of the radical group MOVE from their fortified rowhouse by dropping a small bomb on the building. A fire was started by the device and about 60 houses were destroyed.

A Trans-World Airlines jet with 145 passengers and 8 crew members was hijacked in Athens, Greece in June. Most of the hostages were released within days, but the remaining 39 hostages were held for 17 days. One American hostage was killed.

Four Palestinian terrorists hijacked the Italian cruise liner Achille Lauro while on a Mediterranean cruise. One American was killed. After the ship was released, the Egyptian government agreed to return the hijackers to the PLO. However, the hijackers were intercepted by American jets as they were flown out of Egypt and returned to Italy to stand trial.

The space program was of national interest. Space walker James Von Hoften stood on the end of the robot arm of the Space Shuttle Discovery after successfully launching the repaired Syncom Satellite in September. A high school teacher, Christa McAuliffe was chosen to go into space with six other astronauts in January 1986. Disaster was imminent as the space shuttle exploded within 90 seconds after take-off. The shock of the outcome was revealed as many Americans nationwide mourned the deaths of all seven crew members.

On the lighter side, blue collar troubador Bruce Springsteen, was the undisputed Boss of rock n' roll. His songs about Vietnam veterans, steelworkers, and factory workers hit many responsive chords with all ages of Americans.

President Ronald Reagan underwent surgery to remove a cancerous tumor from his lower intestine. The 74 year old president was back on the job within weeks after the operation.

Fourty-eight contestants "Put on the Ritz" in the quest for the title of Most Beautiful and Most Handsome. As a first, twenty-four handsome men dressed in black tuxedos escorted twenty-four glamorous ladies.

Evidence of poise, grace, and beauty was apparent as judges reviewed the contestants in formal and sports-wear competition.

Vocalist Lisa Dooley, ECJC's 1985 Most Beautiful entertained the audience. Gaye McDaniel was named Most Congenial. Audience anticipation grew until "ECJC's Most Beautiful 1986" was announced.

Nothing exemplifies the subtle freshness better than the festivities surrounding Homecoming. From the packed program of events to the blaze of fireworks on game night. East Centralites moved with a vibrancy not seen in years.

Perhaps this year's events were symbolized best by two firsts. For the first time, all faculty members were involved by the administration in the planning and organization of Homecoming and an officially sponsored dance was held on the Mall. Administration and instructors who "danced the night away" proved that a dance was a much needed and welcome innovation.

The greatest success was the day itself. Over three hundred guests were present. Triumphant officials will always remember the excitement of Homecoming day, the skillful band, the traditional parade, the warmth of the receptions, the spirit displayed by the cheerleaders and Centralettes, the beauty of the Homecoming Queen and Court, the brilliant fireworks, and the winning of the game. Homecoming 1985 was "one of the best".

EAST CENTRAL'S

NIGHT AT THE PLAYER'S AWARDS APRIL 23, 1986

How did you spend an evening during the

FALL DINNER THEATRE

Presented by the players, the night is filled with entertainment as one dines, enjoys special music by Collegian members, a parade of beautiful clothes by the Fashion Squad, and then the house lights dim.

"Let's Make-up" is a comedy about four students out on a date. The boys become disgusted with the chatter and mannerisms and the latter part of the play is devoted to the boys assuming characteristics of the girls. Susan Williamson, Michele Murphy, Daniel Burton, and Chuck Nance comprise this happy duo date. Scottie Chunn delights the audience in a brief walk-on.

"Impromptu" was the serious play with a hidden meaning. Alben Roland, Boyd Germany, Annette Hurley, and Lori Harrell portrayed four actors given one chance to prove themselves. The ensemble worked well together, but the play is not easily understood unless one is into abstract thought and dialogue.

The atmosphere was light as the cast of "Terror Walks the Night" spellbound the audience. Wendy Smith and her side kick Anna Wolverton captivated the audience as they attempted to control the dating activities of the community's teenagers. Danny Bryant portrayed the overprotective, but confused father. Janet Tullos, Stan Davis, Philip Chamblee, and Kim Hamil were the subjects of this comedy of situation.

BYE BYE BIRDIE

APRIL 9-12

When the lights dim and the curtain rises, many do not realize what has transpired from tryouts to the time the audience mentally travels to the 1960's to the Almalou office in New York. Rehearsals, costume fittings, music, set building, painting, lighting, and more rehearsals go into the production. Ordinary people are transformed into extraordinary characters. Scottie Chunn emerged onto the stage as Conrad Birdie, an Elvis Presley type, much to the screaming admiration of his fan, Kim MacAfee, portrayed by Roxanna Manning. His agent Albert Peterson, played by Mike Kirkland, is a very mild mannered type who is torn in the love triangle between his secretary, Rosie outstandingly portrayed by Stacie Therrell and his catastrophe ridden mother, Mae Peterson, played by Lori Harrell. Mr. MacAfee, a settled father unable to understand his daughter, was played by Boyd Germany; his wife Doris was played by Nelda Germany.

As the production week progressed, symbols of appreciation in the form of flowers, cast parties, balloons, roar of applauses, and standing ovations made the rigorous months of effort worthwhile.

CHANGING OF THE GUARD

The 1985-86 basketball season marked the changing of the guard for the Lady Warriors of East Central. With the retirement of long time coach, Lucille Wood, the program was placed in the very capable hands of Coach Sammy Pace. Coach Pace, who returned to coaching after a six year stint as a high school principal, guided the Lady Warriors to a successful season built on hard work, dedication, and team play.

Outstanding performances were turned in by sophomore guards Sethia Townsend of Lake and Karen Miller of Louisville. Both players were named to the All-State Team and Townsend was selected to play in the Mississippi Junior College All-Star game. Other sophomores contributing to the effort were Beverly Bowie, Alice Dawkins, Sandy Nowell and Anita Union.

A talented group of freshmen added their enthuiasm to this year's team. Making solid contributions were Regina Amos, Ruby Carter, Tracy Donald, Paula Harrison, Barbara Jones, Patricia Rives and Angie Smith. With a year of experience behind them, these young players will be the nucleus around which next year's team will be built.

The Lady Warriors experienced a

NEW FACES ON THE SCENE

New faces highlighted the 1985-86 Warrior basketball team. Larry Gressett arrived on the scene in August to take over the reigns as head coach. He was greeted by only four players who had been members of the previous year's team. Kenny Morgan, Ronnie Bender, Bob Holloway, and John Vivians were to provide the foundation around which Coach Gressett would build the ball club. Sophomore transfer Talby Bender proved to be a great addition to the Warrior effort as he led the team in scoring with an 18 point game average. Bender was named to the All-Star team and selected as All-State.

In The Spring A Young Man's Fancy Turns To — BASEBALL

When spring is in the air, so is love, pollen and baseball. The 1985-86 Warrior team proved to be few in number, short on talent, but long in desire and hustle. Coach J.C. Arban and Assistant Coach Larry Gressett saw their troops go into battle time and time again against superior foes. However, the spirit of the Warriors never died and they gave their best effort every time they stepped onto the field. That never-say-die attitude was best exemplified when the Warriors scored 5 runs in the last inning to beat Utica 10-9 after Utica had won the first three meetings.

Turning in stellar performances were Mike Bassett, Isaac Harris, Chris Hemphill, Greg Nowell, David Sorrels, and Charles White. Also contributing were Richard Basil, Randall Farmer, Torrie Farrell, Robert Harris, Harves Johnson and Dewan Salter.

Selected as the team's Best Offensive Player was David Sorrels. Charles White was chosen as the Best Defensive Player and Greg Nowell was selected to serve as the Team Captain.

INDUCTED AS PRESIDENT OF EAST CENTRAL

As the concert band played the processional march, hundreds of guests filled Huff Auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, April 30th, for the inauguration of Dr. Eddie M. Smith as the 6th president of East Central Junior College.

The guests included representatives from many of the state's junior and senior colleges, state legislators, members of the Alumni Executive Committee, the fourteen members of the President's Council, East Central's Board of Trustees and district officials involved in education, industry and government.

The invocation and an invocational musical selection, performed by the East Central choir, began the ceremonies. Dean of instruction, Dr. Bradford Tucker, introduced the guest speakers.

Greetings were given by Mr. Arno Vincent, third president of East Central; Dr. Richard Boyd, State Department of Education; Dr. George Moody, Director of the State Bureau of Junior Colleges; and Don Milner, Associate Director of the State Bureau of Vocational Technical Programs.

The Secretary of the Board of Trustees, Don Howington, delivered the charge from the Board. The Vice-Chairman of the Board, Gilbert Brantley presented Dr. Smith with a plaque bearing the college's insignia.

The investiture, the presenting of the new four-inch medallion along with the newly commissioned mace, and the instating of Dr. Eddie M. Smith as East Central's sixth President, was conducted by the Chairman of the board, Henry B. Hudspeth.

The benediction, the concluding choir selection, and finally, the recessional, performed by the concert band, concluded the ceremonies. Those attending adjourned to the reception which was held in the E.C. Mabry Cafeteria and sponsored by A.R.A. Slater of Atlanta

INDIVIDUALITY

Man's greatest struggle which leads to man's greatest reward is finding ways to express his individuality. But you will never know this unless you become involved, not with trite, meaningless things just to get through the day. Not by attaching yourself to the fun seekers, for they abuse time; or the money seekers for their folly is the absence of love. Not with false communication which destroys the bridges of the soul. Not by becoming attached to the normal man for collectively he consumes the most from life and produces the least, creating imbalance.

First become involved with yourself. Then start exploring, for the world of the mind is enormous. You may not discover gold or riches but you should find the individual that is you. The world of the mind is endless. We've mapped so little of the mind! I sometimes feel that is why one fears the unknown territory beyond his tiny world which is already overcrowded, cluttered by habits and decayed with old ideas. There are ways of life beyond the known world that would amaze you. People, out there, are living them.

Graduation is . . .

A NEW BEGINNING

Graduation is an event worthy of highest recognition. It culminates two years of intellectual endurance in the American system of higher education and all of the trials, tribulations and accomplishments which it entails.

Graduation is indeed a very special event. Graduates have spent many grueling hours in the classroom, library, chemistry and biology labs, computer rooms, or the vocational classrooms preparing for the grand day.

The thought of graduation tends to compel students to spend languid hours in thoughtful reminiscence of all that has gone before as well as time devoted to preparation for their hastily approaching "new beginning."

As the graduate leaves the campus of ECJC, he takes with him the knowledge and confidence to face the challenges that lie before him.

THE NEW BEGINNING CONTINUES . . .

THE SCHOLAR'S BOWL TEAM

Darrell Mangrum. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy D. Mangrum of Decatur, Darrell is majoring in biological engineering at ECJC, and will further pursue his education at Mississippi State. Darrell is president of the Baptist Student Union, Alpha Alpha Epsilon (honorary engineering club), and Mu Alpha Theta (honorary math club). He is vice president of the ECJC sophomore class and of Phi Theta Kappa (scholastic honorary society). Darrell belongs to the President's Council, Warrior Corps and ECJC Players, and is listed in Who's Who Among American Junior Colleges.

Alben Roland. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Roland of Morton, Alben is an electrical engineering major. He's a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Alpha Alpha Epsilon, Mu Alpha Theta and the ECJC Players, band and choir. A Dean's List student, Alben is also listed in Who's Who Among American Junior Colleges.

Tammy Reed. The daughter of David and Mary Reed of Noxapater, Tammy is an English literature major and a Dean's List scholar. She's a member of Phi Theta Kappa and the Fashion Squad, and performs with the Collegians, ECJC's pop music group.

Stan Hardy. The son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hardy of Philadelphia, Stan is a computer science major who will pursue his education at Mississippi State. A President's List student, he is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, and serves as social chairman of Mu Alpha Theta. Stan won the Freshman Chemistry and Math Awards in 1985, and is also listed in Who's Who Among American Junior Colleges.
